

In the left column you will find the primary graph.

The green recycling logo is further explained in the right column.

The process represented by the green recycling logo will be repeated “x” times.

The 3x3 grid represents a choice between 9 possible YouTube clips.

The question will use a binary format, meaning the user will have to select which one of the two possible answers is correct. The question can usually be answered with a simple true or false answer.